

How to share your gps location using Google Maps and/ or Apple Maps

Sometimes 911 cannot locate you. If that is the case
Do the following:

Using Google Maps:

Get a phone number from the 911 operator that will accept a text.

Tap Google Maps (teardrop symbol on your phone)

Look for the blue bubble indicating where you are.

Press and hold the blue bubble until the red teardrop mark appears.

Look at the bottom of your screen where it says “Directions” and select the option to the right of it that says “share”.

Select the symbol that says “messages”.

The gps location will come up in the body of a text.

Fill in the telephone number given to you by the 911 operator and press “send”

Using Apple Maps:

Get a phone number from 911 that will accept a text.

Tap the Apple Map App symbol

Press and hold the blue bubble indicating where you are until the red teardrop appears.

A message will appear saying “my location”. Below it tap “Send my location”

Tap the symbol for messages and type in the tel number you want to receive the location.

In addition: It’s OK to call 911, but in all EBRP call 510-881-1121 as well. They monitor this 24/7 and will know exactly where you are.
